

Animal Art Museum

Animals often appear in Japanese painting. How to depict moving creatures has been a theme tackled by many painters since ancient times.

This exhibition introduces a variety of animal paintings, touching on the background to the creation of each work. The exhibition introduces a variety of animal paintings, while also touching on the background to the creation of each work.

Starting with Maruyama Ōkyo's charming Puppies with Bamboo (the first term of the exhibition), the master tiger painter Ōhashi Suiseki's King of Beasts (all terms), the gentle-eyed deer in Konoshima Ōkoku's Lone Deer in Autumn (all terms), Takeuchi Seiho's Cattle in Pastureland (all terms) painted on full gold screens, and Hishida Shunsō's White Cat under a Plum Tree (all terms), the exhibition will showcase outstanding animal paintings by the masters. We hope that visitors will be able to appreciate the painters' fascination with animals through these animal paintings.
